1. On 29 July 1950 the Neubrandenburg-Trollenhagen (N 54/U 67) airfield was occupied by 13 jet planes. * Ten of the planes, parked in front of the hangars, had a large rudder assembly slanting to the rear, an elevator assembly set high on the rudder assembly and a gray-green paint. The remaining three planes which were on the southeastern edge of the landing field were of the same type and had a red nose and a silver sheen. There was no flying.
2. Two jet planes with a silver sheen were parked in the southeastern section of the field on 12 August 1950. * No flights were made.
3. No changes were observed at the field or in the field installations.

* [REDACTED] Comment. The report confirms the previously believed occupation of the airfield by fighters. The exact number of jet planes is not known. The field is occupied by one fighter regiment which is assigned to the fighter division whose other two regiments are stationed in Peenemuende.
